ABOUT THE ORLANDO MAGIC

Orlando's NBA franchise since 1989, the Magic's mission is to be world champions on and off the court, delivering legendary moments every step of the way. Under the DeVos family's ownership, the Magic have seen great success in a relatively short history, winning six division championships (1995, 1996, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2019) with seven 50-plus win seasons and capturing the Eastern Conference title in 1995 and 2009.

Off the court, on an annual basis, the Orlando Magic gives more than $2 million to the local community by way of sponsorships of events, donated tickets, autographed merchandise and grants. Orlando Magic community relations programs impact an estimated 100,000 kids each year, while a Magic staff-wide initiative provides more than 7,000 volunteer hours annually. In addition, the Orlando Magic Youth Foundation (OMYF) which serves at-risk youth, has distributed more than $29 million to local nonprofit community organizations over the last 34 years.

The Magic's other entities include the team's NBA G League affiliate, the Osceola Magic, 2021 G League champions; the Orlando Solar Bears of the ECHL, which serves as the affiliate to the NHL's Tampa Bay Lightning; and Magic Gaming of the NBA 2K League.

The Magic play their home games at the award-winning Amway Center — voted by fans no. 1 in the NBA for game experience; honored with TheStadiumBusiness Awards' Customer Experience Award; named SportsBusiness Journal's Sports Facility of the Year; and awarded the Venue Excellence Award (VEA) by the International Association of Venue Managers.

ABOUT THE AMWAY CENTER

Amway Center, owned and operated by the City of Orlando on behalf of the Central Florida community, hosts major national events, concerts and family shows since its opening in the fall of 2010.

The Orlando Magic served as the developer and the facility was designed to reflect the character of the community, meet the goals of the users and build on the legacy of sports and entertainment in Orlando. The building's exterior features a modern blend of glass and metal materials, along with ever-changing graphics via a monumental wall along one facade. A 180-foot tall tower serves as a beacon amid the downtown skyline. The 875,000 square foot, Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) Gold certified building features a sustainable, environmentally-friendly design and unmatched technology, including 1,100 digital monitors, the tallest high-definition video board in an NBA venue and multiple premium amenities available to all patrons in the building.

Amway Center was honored with the International Association of Venue Managers' 2017 Venue Excellence Award, which is bestowed upon facilities that excel in the management and operation of public assembly venues. Amway Center was the only arena to garner this distinction. Additionally, the arena has earned numerous awards, which most notably includes TheStadiumBusiness Awards' 2013 Customer Experience Award and was named SportsBusiness Journal's 2012 Sports Facility of the Year.

and being an accountable and invested community partner with local residents. Health and wellness are so important to all of us and we're eager to see this center contribute to meaningful outcomes on and off the court."

AdventHealth physicians and clinical leaders are working with the Orlando Magic to create a unique medical and wellness model for players that brings all elements of health together to optimize performance, reduce injuries and extend career longevity on the court. The organizations are bringing top physicians, sports performance experts and researchers together to deliver patients a wholistic focus that includes areas such as digestive health, nutrition, mental health and sleep, in addition to more traditional areas like orthopedics and primary care.

The goal is to establish new standards of care that can be applied to athletes of all ages and stages - from youth sports players, to weekend warriors, to the pros.

"The Orlando Magic organization is thrilled to broaden its longstanding partnership with AdventHealth. Their commitment to clinical excellence, advancing medicine and improving the health of our players and entire community is unrivaled," said Magic CEO Alex Martins. "This best-in-class training center will provide Magic players, coaches and our human performance staff with the resources and technology necessary to excel in an increasingly competitive NBA landscape. This facility, combined with the unique care model we're developing together, will make an immense difference for our players."

"First and foremost, without the commitment by the DeVos family and AdventHealth, we would not be here today." said Magic President of Basketball Operations Jeff Weltman, "This center is a game changer and the investment speaks to how much we care for the well-being of our players and for those that work hard every day to provide them a platform to reach their full potential."

In January of 2021, the DeVos family, Orlando Magic and AdventHealth announced an enhanced, multiyear partnership that is highlighted by a new downtown stateof-the-art training center for the Orlando Magic, and also a destination sports medicine hub to ADVENTHEALTH Central Florida. TRAINING CENTER:

The AdventHealth OPEN FOR BUSINESS Training Center, a 130,000-square-foot AUGUST 31, 2022 facility located on a nearly four-acre site at South Division Avenue and West Central Boulevard, is the practice and training home to the Orlando Magic. The site is one block from the Amway Center.

Together, AdventHealth and the Orlando Magic are building an innovative health and wellness model that brings whole-person medicine, science and research together to optimize sports performance, while bringing those learnings to the broader community.

AdventHealth, a partner with the Magic for more than 30 years, is also a "Champion of the Community" partner with the team. As a Magic "Champion of the Community" partner, the two remain committed to improving the lives of all Central Floridians.

"Our hope is that this facility is even more than a worldclass training center and becomes a true 'win-win' for the community and the team," said Dan DeVos, chairman of the Orlando Magic. "We're dedicated to two things building a championship organization for the long-term

The $70 million facility marks the latest investment in the Parramore community and opened in the second quarter of 2022.

The Magic's portion of the facility is designed to optimize performance and provide a world-class recovery space. A large team "family room" acts as the facility's hub, complete with enhanced nutrition offerings and a full kitchen. Leading training and recovery technologies, including an altitude chamber and hydrotherapy offerings as well as an expansive locker room with high-end finishes elevate the player experience. The facility includes two full-size courts overlooked by an elevated viewing balcony. To take advantage of Orlando's warm climate, the design includes covered exterior patios and decks, a creatively landscaped outdoor team space and indoor/outdoor training space. The facility also includes front office and hospitality spaces that celebrate the Orlando Magic's brand and history.

AdventHealth's 33,300-square-foot medical hub — designed for elite athletes, as well as youth athletes and weekend warriors — provides world-class, multi-discipline medicine with a focus on whole-person health and sports science. Services include orthopedics, primary care, sports medicine, imaging, rehabilitation and sports performance. Patients also have access to AdventHealth's network of sports-trained gastroenterologists, cardiologists, sleep, psychology and nutrition experts.

The project incorporates sustainable design strategies including daylighting and strategic sun shading, stormwater management, and advanced mechanical and lighting systems and controls.

"We are thrilled to partner with the Orlando Magic and are developing a health model that has the potential to not only revolutionize how we care for our professional athletes, but also apply those learnings to our larger community," said President and CEO of AdventHealth's Central Florida Division Randy Haffner. "Health and the importance of leading a healthy lifestyle has never been more important than it is today. We look forward to building this program with the Magic and providing this world-class destination sports medicine hub for our broader community."

The Orlando Magic and AdventHealth also continue its commitment to Minority and Women-Owned Business Enterprises (MWBE) with the awarding of $17 million of design and construction contracts for the project to 33 local MWBEs. That amount represents approximately 32 percent of awarded opportunities, which is over the city's recommended 24 percent MWBE participation.

The facility was designed by HOK, with Balfour Beatty serving as the construction manager. Partners featured in and around the building include Verizon, Altitude International, Violet Defense, Volta Charging, Jani-King and Massey Services. Each partner provides a unique aspect, enhancing the state-of-the-art experience and commitment to health and wellness.

In May of 2023, the AdventHealth Training Center was recognized with the Downtown Orlando Partnership (DOP) Golden Brick Award, taking home its Award of Excellence. The Golden Bricks recognize projects nominated for community and development which positively impacted downtown Orlando.

AdventHealth Training Center Will Help Optimize Orlando Magic Player Performance

By Josh Cohen, OrlandoMagic.com

The AdventHealth Training Center is a game changer for Orlando Magic players. Inside is an array of ultramodern equipment, technology and services for them to optimize their performance, reduce injuries and extend their career longevity.

The design of the facility combined with the training features helps players both physically and mentally. Included are two practice courts with six baskets, an 8,000+-foot state-of-the-art weight room, a float pod, an altitude chamber, a full body cryotherapy chamber, sauna and steam rooms, recovery and massage rooms, aquatic spaces, an outdoor turf, a large kitchen and dining area. and much more.

It was back in January of 2021 when the DeVos family, the Magic and AdventHealth announced the more than 130,000-square-foot training center located on a nearly four-acre site at South Division Avenue and West Central Boulevard.

Together, AdventHealth and the Magic are building an innovative health and wellness model that brings whole-person medicine, science and research together to optimize sports performance, while bringing those learnings to the broader community.

AdventHealth is a "Champion of the Community" partner of the Orlando Magic, and has been a partner for more than 30 years. Magic "Champion of the Community" partners represent organizations that are committed to improving the lives of all Central Floridians.

This new practice venue will help attract prospective free agents as well, showing players the organization's commitment to their skill development as well as physical and mental health.

Here's a more in-depth look at some of the equipment, spaces and partnerships at the AdventHealth Training Center that enhances the state-of-theart experience and a commitment to health and wellness:

Altitude International Altitude Chamber

Targeting aerobic capacity and endurance, the chamber helps players train at different altitude levels. As an athlete trains inside, their body has to work harder to cope with the adaptations. This will increase the number of red blood cells in the body, according to LiveScience.com, which then sends more oxygen to the muscles. The Magic are partnering with Altitude International Holdings for this technology and is the first NBA team to have a custom-built, simulated altitude chamber in their facility.

Float Pod

A sensory deprivation pod that helps relax the body and mind simultaneously. Full of water and a high dose of Epsom salt, the floating pod is a multifaceted tool to decrease anxiety and relieve muscle pain. It provides the feeling of weightlessness and shuts out all sights and sounds.

Full Body Cryotherapy Chamber

A quick way to get full body cold exposure for recovery. This treatment typically lasts for under three minutes. There are several health benefits of cryotherapy. One of the main ones, according to Healthline.com, is that it numbs nerve irritation.

Hydro Area

Featuring hot and cold plunges for recovery after workouts. They will also be used for contrast baths. Within this space, there is a small pool that includes an underwater treadmill by HydroWorx. This comes in handy when a player is recovering from a lower body injury as it allows them to run at a reduced body weight.

Infrared Sauna and Steam Room

Critical for players to increase their body's core temperature and detox. According to Sunlighten.com, "infrared sauna use produces sweat containing 80% water and 20% toxins while conventional sauna use produces sweat containing 97% water and only 3% toxins."

Jani-King

A commercial cleaning program tailored to fit the AdventHealth Training Center's needs of each player, patient, doctor and personnel. Clean floors and regular dusting not only improve the overall health and safety of the facility, but will also have a direct impact on the positive morale of those working in the building every day.

Kitchen and Dining Area

Nutrition is a major part of athletic performance, development and recovery. Well aware of that, the Magic designed over 8,000 square feet to the kitchen and dining areas in the new training center. There is even an outdoor barbecue space where players are able to eat healthy meals right off the grill.

ADVENTHEALTH TRAINING CENTER

Other notable additions are an expansive locker room with high-end finishes designed to elevate the player experience, two full-size courts overlooked by an elevated viewing balcony, covered exterior patios and decks, a creatively landscaped outdoor team space and indoor/outdoor training space. The facility also includes front office and hospitality spaces that celebrate the Magic's brand and history.

Medical Evaluation Rooms

A huge benefit of sharing space with AdventHealth is that the Magic now have on-site medical care in the same facility. If an MRI or CT Scan is needed, for example, that equipment is right there.

Outdoor Lap Pool/Outdoor Turf Space

Many players like to swim for cardio conditioning. The turf outside, meanwhile, is used for running sprints and performing other track-related activities.

Verizon

Verizon provides the infrastructure for cellular coverage throughout the facility.

Violet Defense

Violet Defense is a UV disinfection technology installed throughout the facility utilizing powerful, broad-spectrum light, including germicidal UV-C, UV-B, UV-A, and violet-blue enhancing its germ-killing efficiency.

Volta Charging

Five Volta EV charging stalls are installed in the outside surface lot near the stadium entrances for fans and guests and an additional five stalls, with ten collective charging ports, are available for staff and team usage within the underground parking facility. Volta's public EV chargers, such as those installed at the AdventHealth Training Center, support the rapid transition to electric mobility by making charging accessible and convenient for all.

THE Devos family

The DeVos family purchased the Orlando Magic in September of 1991. Since then, the family has proudly served in its self-appointed role as the franchise's "caretaker" while operating under the belief that the NBA franchise really belongs to the Central Florida community and the loyal Magic fans.

Orlando Magic Tenure

Since 1991, the franchise has won six division championships, two Eastern Conference titles and had seven 50-win seasons, including a franchise-record 60 victories in 1995-96. The Magic have advanced to the playoffs 16 times during that span, while finishing with a .500 record or better in 17 of the last 31 seasons.

The operation of the Magic has always been a passion and priority for the entire family — starting with the late Rich and Helen DeVos, and their four children and spouses. Today, Rich and Helen's grandchildren, as the third generation of DeVos family members, are increasingly active with the team and affiliates as well.

Affiliates include the team's NBA G League franchise, the Osceola Magic, which captured the NBA G League championship in 2020-21; the Orlando Solar Bears of the ECHL, which serves as the affiliate to the National Hockey League's Tampa Bay Lightning; and Magic Gaming, which competes in the NBA 2K League.

Philanthropy

The DeVos family is actively involved with philanthropic and community efforts in Central Florida and beyond — contributing more than $500 million in the last five years alone to nonprofit causes. Much of the family's philanthropy supports efforts to come alongside underserved communities and support their work to enact meaningful change, remove barriers, and allow for all to achieve their full potential. One such effort is a partnership with the Orlando Magic Youth Foundation (OMYF), which seeks to positively impact nearly 100,000 youth each year through programs addressing education, the arts, homelessness, and health and wellness. The DeVos family covers all operating expenses for the OMYF so that each dollar raised can go to kids who will benefit from it.

Commitment to Orlando

The family played a key role in helping to secure the state-of-the-art Amway Center in Orlando. Opening in October 2010, the Amway Center is part of a public community venues program that also includes a new Performing Arts Center and a renovation of the Citrus Bowl Stadium. The Magic and the DeVos family also contributed $12.5 million toward construction of five community recreation centers throughout Orange County, Florida, as part of its commitment to build the new Amway Center.

DeVos family members were introduced to the Central Florida community during Orlando's drive to bring a Major League Baseball team to "The City Beautiful." An ensuing relationship was formed between the DeVos family and the city of Orlando that culminated with the purchase of the team.

The family patriarch and Amway co-founder, Rich, understood the impact professional sports can have on the upcoming generation and inspired his family to remain committed to ensuring the team provides a positive, encouraging example for all.

RICH AND HELEN Devos Court Memorial

In 2019, the Orlando Magic permanently dedicated its home court at the Amway Center to honor its late Senior Chairman, Rich DeVos and his late wife, Helen DeVos. The court prominently features a "Rich and Helen DeVos Court" memorial insignia.

After purchasing the Magic in 1991, Rich and Helen's vision was that the team and organization would serve as a platform to improve the Central Florida community. They led by example donating more than $2 million annually to the local community through grants, sponsorships of events, donated tickets and autographed merchandise. Their legacy lives on today through the Orlando Magic's community and philanthropic contributions.

THE Devos family Leadership

DAN DeVOS Chairman/Governor

Dan DeVos serves as chairman of the Orlando Magic and a member of the NBA Board of Governors. In this role, he focuses on long-term strategic planning for the organization and new business initiatives. THE EVOLUTION OF ORLANDO MAGIC UNIFORMS

MAGICAL MOMENTS

10,000! On December 22, 1988, the 10,000th season ticket was sold, ending the Magic's commitment to the NBA of guaranteeing 10,000 season ticketholders by January 1, 1989. Pat Williams (above) makes the announcement of Orlando meeting its season ticket goal.

A MODERN DAY P.T. BARNUM, Pat Williams turned a dream into the Orlando Magic more than 30 years ago.

"I had been working in conjunction with Jimmy Hewitt on this idea of trying to bring a basketball team to Orlando," said Williams. "He had put everything in place with ownership, an arena, the backing of the city. He called one night, late April 1986, and I remember taking the phone call in my kitchen. Jimmy, in his unmistakable southern drawl, said, 'Bubba, we've gone about as far as we can go down here. If you come down here and spearhead it we'll go forward... If you don't, we'll pull the plug'."

Williams could feel the urgency. He knew it was decision time.

"We (Philadelphia 76ers) were getting ready for the lottery in which we had a pick and we were getting ready for the playoffs. We ended up winning the lottery and had a good playoff run which made things more confusing.

"But I knew deep within that the adventure and risk involved in trying to start up a team was really something that I had to pursue. There was a restlessness in my spirit. I needed a new adventure."

Williams took the leap of faith and resigned his position as general manager of the Philadelphia 76ers.

IN-SEASON TOURNAMENT

ORLANDO MAGIC PLACED IN 'EAST GROUP C' For first-ever NBA IN-SEASON TOURNAMENT

Orlando in group with Boston, Brooklyn, Chicago and Toronto

Tournament tips-off Nov. 3; Semifinals and Championship (Dec. 7, 9) takes place in Las Vegas

Orlando, FL – The National Basketball Association (NBA) unveiled details of the NBA In-Season Tournament, a new annual competition for all 30 teams that will debut in the 2023-24 regular season.

The inaugural In-Season Tournament will tip off on Friday, Nov. 3 in NBA team markets and culminate with the playing of the Semifinals (Thursday, Dec. 7) and Championship (Saturday, Dec. 9) at T-Mobile Arena in Las Vegas.

The In-Season Tournament will consist of two stages: Group Play and the Knockout Rounds.

GROUP PLAY:

All 30 teams have been randomly drawn into groups of five within their conference based on win-loss records from the 2022-23 regular season. Each team will play four designated Group Play games — one game against each opponent in its group, with two games at home and two on the road — on "Tournament Nights," which will take place every Tuesday and Friday from Nov. 3-28 (with the exception of Election Day on Tuesday, Nov. 7, when no games will be played). The only NBA games played on Tournament Nights will be Group Play games.

GROUP PLAY DRAW:

To determine each team's opponents in the Group Play games, the 15 teams in each conference were divided into three groups of five teams via a random drawing.

Before the drawing, each team was placed into a "pot" based on its record from the prior regular season (2022-23). In each conference, one team from each pot was randomly selected into each of the three groups in that conference. The pots were as follows:

- Pot 1: The teams with the three best prior-season records in a conference.
- Pot 2: The teams with the fourth-through sixth-best prior-season records.
- Pot 3: The teams with the seventh- through ninth-best prior-season records.
- Pot 4: The teams with the 10th-through 12th-best prior-season records.
- Pot 5: The teams with the 13th-through 15th-best prior-season records.

The Orlando Magic will be in EAST GROUP C, along with the Boston Celtics, Brooklyn Nets, Chicago Bulls and Toronto Raptors. Orlando's In-Season Tournament Group Play games are Tuesday, Nov. 14 @ Brooklyn (7:30 pm ET), Friday, Nov. 17 @ Chicago (8 pm ET), Tuesday, Nov. 21 vs. Toronto (7 pm ET) and Friday, Nov. 24 vs. Boston (2:30 pm ET).

KNOCKOUT ROUNDS:

Eight teams will advance to the Knockout Rounds: the team with the best standing in Group Play games in each of the six groups and two "wild cards" (the team from each conference with the best record in Group Play games that finished second in its group). The Knockout Rounds will consist of single-elimination games in the Quarterfinals (played in NBA team markets on Monday, Dec. 4 and Tuesday, Dec. 5) and Semifinals and Championship (played in Las Vegas on Dec. 7 and Dec. 9, respectively). The Knockout teams will compete for a prize pool and the new In-Season Tournament trophy, the NBA Cup.

In each conference, Quarterfinal games will be hosted by the two teams with the best record in Group Play games, and the team with the best record in Group Play games will host the wild card team.

During the Knockout Rounds on days when In-Season Tournament games are not scheduled (Wednesday, Dec. 6 and Friday, Dec. 8), the 22 teams that do not qualify for the Knockout Rounds will each play two regular season games. The four teams that lose in the Quarterfinals will each play a regular season game on Dec. 8.

PRIZE POOL:

For the 2023-24 season, the In-Season Tournament prize pool will be allocated to the players on the teams that participate in the Knockout Rounds as follows:

- Players on winning team of Championship: $500,000 each
- Players on losing team of Championship: $200,000 each
- Players on losing team of Semifinals: $100,000 each
- Players on losing team of Quarterfinals: $50,000 each

LEAGUE HONORS:

At the conclusion of the In-Season Tournament, the NBA will name the Most Valuable Player of the In-Season Tournament and the All-Tournament Team. Selection will be based on the players' performance in both Group Play and the Knockout Rounds.

OSCEOLA MAGIC

On April 11, 2023, the Orlando Magic announced that it will relocate its NBA G League affiliate to Kissimmee, Fla., and it will be rebranded as the Osceola Magic. Their new home will be in Osceola Heritage Park, beginning play at Silver Spurs Arena in November 2023.

"We are excited to bring the Magic and NBA G League basketball to Osceola County, Kissimmee and Osceola Heritage Park," said Orlando Magic CEO and Osceola Magic Managing Partner Alex Martins. "We would like to thank Osceola County Chairwoman Viviana Janer, County Manager Don Fisher and Osceola Heritage Park General Manager Robb Larson in assisting us in making this move a reality. We look forward to being an invested community partner in Kissimmee and Osceola County."

The NBA G League is the NBA's official developmental league, preparing players, coaches, officials, trainers and front office staff for careers in the NBA, while acting as the league's research and developmental laboratory. The NBA G League features 31 teams - 29 with one-to-one affiliations with NBA franchises.

"Osceola County's strategic planning continues to attract top tier organizations that share in our vision for the community," said Janer. "We are honored to have the Osceola Magic make their new home at OHP. When it comes to sports and entertainment, we already host many premium events and organizations. Today, I'm proud that the Orlando Magic organization is joining the list of marquee partners that call Osceola County and Osceola Heritage Park their home. We look forward to cheering on our new team and welcoming fans from all over to experience the magic of Osceola County."

"We're thrilled to welcome the Osceola Magic to our community and to Osceola Heritage Park," said Larson. "This partnership will not only bring exciting professional basketball games to Osceola County, but also provide opportunities to local businesses and tourism. We look forward to working closely with the team to create a memorable experience for fans and players alike."

During the 2022-23 campaign, 49 G League players earned NBA Call-Ups, and the league saw its 900th Call-Up of all-time, as well as its 700th different player called up since the league was established in 2001. Throughout the NBA season, at least 54% of players on NBA rosters had G League experience, with that number reaching as high as 58% during 2022-23 play. In 2022-23, seven members of the Orlando Magic spent time in the G League with their affiliate.

The Orlando Magic's G League affiliate captured the 2021 NBA G League championship.

COMMUNITY, PHILANTHROPY, DIVERSITY

The Orlando Magic is committed to helping children reach their full potential by investing our resources in the areas of Education, Homelessness, Health & Wellness, and The Arts. We are dedicated to creating an inclusive environment in which our fans, community partners, and employees feel welcome, valued and appreciated.

ORLANDO MAGIC YOUTH FOUNDATION

The Orlando Magic Youth Foundation (OMYF) was established in 1990 to provide support to Central Florida nonprofit organizations that focus on helping children, especially those most at risk, realize their full potential, empower families, and change lives.

Over the last 34 years, more than $29 million to 500 local nonprofits, impacting an estimated 100,000 youth per year! This is a total team effort, supported by the community and fueled by you, our fans.

OMYF receives its funding from individuals, fundraising events, and programs that include: Orlando Wine Festival and Auction, OMYF Open Golf Tournament, State of Florida License Plate Program, 50/50 Raffle, Employee Giving Campaign, Player Giving Campaign and online and in-game auctions.

For additional information or to give to OMYF, please visit omyf.org or call 407-916-2429.

OMYF AREAS OF SUPPORT

OMYF accepts grant applications from 501(c)(3) nonprofit organizations in Orange, Osceola, Polk, Lake, Brevard, Seminole, and Volusia counties.

Nonprofits that request funding must support OMYF's mission, demonstrate inclusiveness, and address the needs of our diverse community in one of the following focus areas:

- Health & Wellness: to support programs that reduce the risk of childhood obesity, promote healthy eating and physical activity that improves the lives of children and youth.
- Education: to help children and youth achieve academic success, complete high school and enter postsecondary education institutions.
- Homelessness: to support prevention services and/or long-term housing strategies with multiple wraparound services for individuals and families.
- The Arts: to support arts agencies that dynamically show the ability to improve and enhance overall academic performance for their participants.

OMYF GRANTS

As part of the Orlando Magic's continuing commitment to the Central Florida community, the OMYF recently distributed grants totaling $1,000,000 to 24 nonprofit organizations spread across Orange, Seminole and Osceola counties.

Our grant recipients are considered our OMYF Grant All-Star Team and they were announced in the spirit of the NBA Draft as each nonprofit organization was recognized and presented with an OMYF jersey or specialty basketball. Representatives were congratulated by Orlando Magic Chairman Dan DeVos, and Orlando Magic CEO Alex Martins.

2022-23 OMYF PARTNER SPOTLIGHTS

Osceola County Council on Aging — Building Strong Families Program - $100,000

The Building Strong Families program, which focuses on restoring, stabilizing, and strengthening families, provides health and human services for low-income families at risk for homelessness. With OMYF's generous support they will continue delivering these essential services to the Osceola community. The initiative assists with rent and/or mortgage assistance, utility assistance, employment services, healthcare, and nutritional services. The project also targets to improve the safety and security of children by supporting a stable home environment, which lessens the chance of homelessness.

University of Central Florida — iREAD Program - $50,000

UCF's iREAD (intensive Reading Enrichment for Academic Development) is an intervention program for students who do not show reading proficiency. This program, within UCF's Communication Disorders Clinic, is a four-week course that addresses phonological and phonemic awareness, spelling, reading fluency and comprehension, written expression, and oral language skills.

The iREAD program successfully addresses these deficits through hands-on multisensory activities, direct instruction based on clinically based methods and weekly progress monitoring. Participants in the first two years of the iREAD program demonstrated gains in reading comprehension and spelling ability.

Orlando Magic Youth Foundation's support will allow the iREAD program to expand, increasing the number of participants for Summer 2023 from 26 to 51. This expansion in Summer 2023 will also allow the program to be more accessible, with a move to the UCF Downtown campus in Orlando's urban core, blocks from the heart of the Holden/Parramore neighborhood.

OMYF OMYF

Foundation for Seminole County Schools – Take Stock in Children Program - $40,000

The core focus of this program is to provide low-income students with structured mentorship and college coaching throughout their entire high school career. It provides a unique opportunity to escape many of the outcomes associated with economic status. This program has a 100% graduation rate compared to 72% for similar students not enrolled in Take Stock in Children.

RICH AND HELEN DEVOS COMMUNITY ENRICHMENT AWARD

Magic owners Rich and Helen DeVos established this program to honor an Orlando Magic player who dedicates his efforts beyond the basketball court to enhance the lives of others. Specifically, that means the player's actions off the court are honorable in nature, the player displays a respectable attitude toward those he encounters, and the player shies away from situations that may be negatively perceived and provides a positive environment for others through his actions. They always taught us that everybody has something to give — time, talent, treasure, whatever it may be. That's just part of what we do. It's sort of our DNA. Wherever you are, throughout the country and throughout the world, there are people that are in need — and it's our responsibility to help."

COMMUNITY AMBASSADORS

NICK ANDERSON Community Ambassador

As part of its continued commitment to the Central Florida community, Nick Anderson joined the organization's community relations department as community ambassador during the summer of 2006. Anderson, who was a staple in the Orlando community as a player for a decade, will continue to take part in a variety of community outreach efforts.

The Magic's first-ever NBA Draft selection out of the University of Illinois (11th overall, 1989 NBA Draft), Anderson played ten seasons for Orlando from 1989-99. In 692 career regular season games with the Magic, he averaged 15.4 ppg., 5.3 rpg., 2.8 apg. and 1.45 stlpg. Anderson ranks as the franchise's all-time leader in games played (692), field goals made (4,075), steals (1,004), field goals attempted (8,976) and three-point field goals attempted (2,480). He also stands second on the Magic's all-time list with 10,650 points, 900 three-point field goals made and 22,440 minutes played.

In 2014, along with Pat Williams, Anderson was an inaugural inductee into the Orlando Magic Hall of Fame. He was also inducted into the Chicagoland Sports Hall of Fame in September 2016 and into the Florida Sports Hall of Fame in November 2019.

Anderson may best be remembered for one of the greatest moments in Magic history – stealing the ball from Michael Jordan during the closing seconds of Game 1 of the 1995 Eastern Conference Semifinals, allowing Orlando to win the contest and eventually move on to the NBA Finals.

In 2005-06, Anderson was the first honoree as part of the Magic's "Commitment to the Past" program, a multiseason effort aimed at embracing Magic history and the team's former players. Anderson won the inaugural Rich and Helen DeVos Community Enrichment Award in 1995-96. He also serves as a pregame and postgame analyst for select games on Bally Sports Florida.

BO OUTLAW Community Ambassador

As part of its continued commitment to the Central Florida community, Charles "Bo" Outlaw joined the organization's community relations department as community ambassador in February 2008. Outlaw, who was extremely active in the Orlando community as a player with the Magic for more than six years, will continue to take part in a variety of community outreach efforts.

A 14-year NBA veteran, Outlaw played in 914 career NBA regular season games with the L.A. Clippers, Orlando, Memphis and Phoenix, averaging 5.4 ppg., 4.9 rpg., 1.6 apg. and 1.31 blkpg. in 22.7 minpg. During his time with the Magic, Outlaw was recognized for his outstanding work in the Central Florida community with the Rich and Helen DeVos Community Enrichment Award. He won the award three times (1998-99, 2005-06, 2006-07) and is one of only two players in team history to accomplish that feat. Outlaw also serves as a pregame and postgame analyst for select games on Bally Sports Florida.

STUFF THE MAGIC MASCOT

On October 27, 1988, STUFF literally burst onto the scene when a large egg was discovered in front of the old Amway Arena. No one is sure where it came from or how it arrived in Orlando. Witnesses, however, reported a giant explosion followed by a shower of deflated basketballs, Orlando Magic bumper stickers and puffs of green smoke. The oversized green dragon that emerged from the commotion had no idea of the impact he would soon have on "The City Beautiful."

STUFF is one of the most recognizable mascots in professional sports. STUFF prides himself as the Orlando Magic's number one fan, and he relishes his role as the team "funny guy." Whether seen backflipping off a 16-foot ladder, shooting his signature backwards half-court shot, or perhaps throwing a cake in the face of an unsuspecting fan from another team, STUFF seldom seems to slow down his pace. Although unpredictable at times, his comedic timing and impromptu style is guaranteed to bring a smile to the faces of fans both young and old.

Our lovable dragon STUFF took his fame to new heights in 2014. After a game-time decision to propose to supermodel Kate Upton, STUFF was seen on several media outlets and was even discussed on TMZ. That wasn't enough for the big green guy. STUFF delivered a dance-off challenge to Hashtag, the mascot of the "Tonight Show with Jimmy Fallon." While the show was visiting Orlando on June 18, 2014, STUFF and Hashtag battled it out in an epic dance-off on national television. The result was a tie. In March of 2015, STUFF made ESPN's Top Ten Plays with his dangerous and exciting backflip dunk off a 16-foot ladder. STUFF was also named the NBA's Mascot of the Year for 2015-16 and 2016-17, making him the first ever back-to-back recipient.

OVERTIME

FROM A VISION TO BLUEPRINTS TO REALITY

The Orlando Magic served as the developer of the downtown Amway Center, which competes to host major national events, concerts and family shows. The facility is owned and operated by the City of Orlando on behalf of the Central Florida community.

The Amway Center opened in 2010 and was designed to reflect the character of the community, meet the goals of the users and build on the legacy of sports and entertainment in Orlando.

The building's exterior features a modern blend of glass and metal materials, along with ever-changing graphics via a monumental wall along one façade. A 180-foot tall tower and spire serves as a beacon amid the downtown skyline.

2017 VENUE EXCELLENCE AWARD

In August 2017, the Amway Center was recognized with the prestigious Venue Excellence Award from IAVM – the International Association of Venue Managers. The Amway Center was the only arena to earn the honor.

The Venue Excellence Award recognizes five IAVM venues of any type within the membership which demonstrate excellence in the management and operation of public assembly venues. This includes but is not limited to amphitheaters, arenas, auditoriums, casinos, complexes, convention centers, exhibit halls, fair/festival grounds, performing arts centers, race tracks, stadiums & university venues. IAVM takes pride in its members and member venues that excel in providing their communities with a safe and enjoyable space for all types of events and educational opportunities.

Any venue, publicly or privately owned and operated, that has demonstrated excellence within the last calendar year and has at least one current employee who is an IAVM member in good standing may apply.

• The following four criteria framework help demonstrate the ways in which the venue has demonstrated excellence in venue management and operations: operational excellence, teambuilding/professional development, safety and security, and service to the community.

2013 CUSTOMER EXPERIENCE AWARD

The Amway Center was honored on June 6, 2013 with the Customer Experience Award during The Stadium Business Awards presentation held in association with TheStadiumBusiness Summit in Manchester, England.

The Stadium Business Summit is the largest dedicated meeting in the world of the owners, operators and developers of the world's leading stadiums, arenas and major sports venues. Previous recipients have included City Square/Etihad Stadium, Manchester City FC, Manchester, England (2012), The Family Area Cardiff City FC, Cardiff, Wales (2011) and The O2 Arena, London, England (2010).

With the opening of the Amway Center in 2010, the Orlando Magic spearheaded a specialized customer service training program in conjunction with the Disney Institute for all Amway Center employees. Annually the initiative provides training to more than 2.000 employees.

AMWAYCENTER.COM

The criteria for a Customer Experience Award nomination requires that the stadium, arena or major sports venue consistently deliver outstanding levels of service at every stage of the customer journey.

2012 FACILITY OF THE YEAR

At a sports industry annual awards ceremony on May 23, 2012, the Amway Center was named "Facility of the Year."

The announcement was made by Street & Smith's SportsBusiness Journal and SportsBusiness Daily at the prestigious SportsBusiness Awards in New York City, which annually recognizes excellence and outstanding achievement in the business of sports.

Amway Center served as host for the 2012 NBA All-Star Weekend in Orlando, culminating with the 61st NBA All-Star Game on Sunday, February 26. In a thrilling contest, the West defeated the East, 152-149. More than $95 million in economic impact in Orange County, Florida was generated from NBA All-Star Weekend, according to a study conducted by Strategic Marketing Services and SportsEconomics, LLC. In addition, the NBA All-Star Game at the Amway Center provided unprecedented exposure, as the contest was broadcast in 215 countries and territories in 47 different languages.

AMENITIES FOR ALL LEVELS OF TICKET BUYERS

The 875,000 square foot, Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) Gold certified building features a sustainable, environmentally-friendly design and unmatched technology, including 1,100 digital monitors, the tallest high-definition video board in an NBA venue and multiple premium amenities available to all patrons in the building.

Every level of ticket buyer has access to a number of premium amenities.

"It's a great day for Central Florida. History will look back on this day in the same light as the day that Walt Disney announced he was building his theme park in Orlando." Magic Chief Executive Officer Alex Martins said the night of the approval, July 26, 2007, adding: "I would like to thank Mayor Rich Crotty and Mayor Buddy Dyer, as well as both the County and City Commissions for their vision and leadership. I would also like to thank the Walt Disney World Company, Universal Orlando, SeaWorld, the Central Florida Hotel and Lodging Association, the Orlando/Orange County Convention and Visitors Bureau, as well as the entire Orlando tourism and business community for their active participation in ensuring this positive outcome for new downtown sports and entertainment facilities for the people who call Central toward construction of the Amway Center, $10 million toward the arts center, and $25 million toward construction of five community recreation centers. The Magic's other contributions toward operations. fundraising and financing push the team's total participation in the downtown venue projects to more than $150 million.

In a historic move, the Magic agreed that Amway Center would be designed and constructed to meet the certification criteria for an environmentally "green" building development standard.

"We want this facility to not only serve our community but to reflect our community's values," Martins said.

Populous, formerly HOK Sport, was selected as designer of the Amway Center. Hunt Construction group was selected as the construction manager. The official groundbreaking celebration was held July 25, 2008. The events center was named the Amway Center on August 5, 2009 and the building opened to the public for the first time on October 1, 2010.

Inside the arena, patrons will find modern amenities in a comfortable setting – ideal for hosting family events as well as basketball games. Concourses are spacious, offering unique concessions and activities for kids and adults alike. The Bud Light Baseline Bar on the main Terrace concourse overlooks the event floor, and children will enjoy spending time in the kid-oriented STUFF's Magic Castle and retail opportunities on the upper Promenade concourse.

"From the inside out, beginning to end we were committed to developing a world class venue that would bring a myriad of events that would appeal to the diverse taste of Central Florida residents," said Mayor Buddy Dyer. "Whether it's a child experiencing his or her first basketball game or two friends singing along at a concert, these are the shared experiences and memories that will be created at the Amway Center."

With 875,000 square feet of space, the Amway Center offers plenty of room to incorporate the modern-day amenities found in most professional arenas of today, and seating which is expandable to more than 20.000 seats to accommodate major national events.

The $380 million facility features eight levels, five public concourses, 37 restrooms, 55 concession points of sale, 60 suites, 68 loge boxes and 1,400 club seats. The Amway Center features up to 17 hospitality spaces for rental on a per event basis.

UNIQUELY ORLANDO

"We took a hard and long look at the essence of Orlando before coming up with a design that we believe reflects the best and most distinctive aspects of this community." said AIA. Populous Sport Senior Designer

AMWAY CENTER AMWAY CENTER

Brad Clark. "And just as importantly, the building will set a new standard in sustainable design as one of the greenest professional sports facilities in the country."

To celebrate Central Florida's moderate climate, the building is filled with a variety of indoor-outdoor spaces. Once guests enter the voluminous, 80-foot-tall Disney Atrium main lobby, they are able to return to the outdoors via the Michelob ULTRA Club overlooking Church Street.

The arena was designed to respond to its distinct urban setting while revealing the activities occurring within. Bounded by Church Street, Hughey Avenue, South Street and Division Avenue, the arena's primary entrance faces north to Church Street, creating a natural extension of the nearby downtown entertainment core. The Church Street entry features a large public entry plaza connecting the arena's spacious Disney Atrium.

"In designing the community's new center we feel we created the framework for a facility that will be the catalyst for economic revitalization in downtown's west side, while establishing a flexible design that will serve as a great home and attract the nation's premier events," added the Magic's Martins. "The building has a design unique to Orlando, while providing a framework for environmental sustainability."

JOBS IN A TOUGH ECONOMY

The massive construction project served as a boon to the local construction business in a time when jobs were scarce because of the sharp downturn of the nation's economy.

The Magic and City of Orlando worked closely with local minority and women-owned businesses — some of which were based out of the nearby Parramore community — awarding them with more than 30 percent of the contracts totaling $90-plus million, exceeding the 24 percent benchmark established by the City of Orlando.

Of the 170-plus minority and women-owned firms which worked to construct the facility, 61 were African-American-owned firms, 52 women-owned firms, 37 Hispanic-owned firms, 22 Asian-American-owned firms and two Native-American-owned firms.

ENVIRONMENTALLY-FRIENDLY

Sustainable design and construction specifics focused on the opportunities to create an environmentally-friendly building in various categories. Among them: providing water efficiency; optimizing energy and atmosphere protection; conserving materials and resources; monitoring indoor environmental quality and health; selecting environmentally preferred operations and maintenance.

These elements combine to create one of the most environmentally-friendly, high-performing professional arenas in the country and the first NBA arena which was originally designed and constructed to be Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) Gold certified.

ONE OF THE MOST TECHNOLOGICALLY-ADVANCED BUILDINGS IN NORTH AMERICA

The arena has more than 1,100 screens of highdefinition content via Internet Protocol Television and a digital signage network which maximizes fan engagement and interaction, as well as providing unlimited opportunities for advertisers and sponsors.

The Daktronics center-hung scoreboard alone includes four primary high definition LED video displays with 840 lines of resolution each, eight auxiliary video/scoring/ statistics displays and two LED ring displays. More than 9 million individual LEDs are used in the 18 displays incorporated into the center-hung scoreboard. Overall dimensions of the center-hung scoreboard are 42 feet by 41 feet by 41 feet (HxWxD). Complementing the primary scoreboard are two LED ribbon boards mounted on the interior fascia of the seating decks.

The bigger size, flexibility and advanced technology allows Orlando to attract bigger concerts, major political conventions and compete for more major sporting events such as conference and NCAA tournaments.

"We've designed a facility that has so many built-in amenities for every level of ticket-buyer," Martins said. "So many of these buildings in the past have been designed where a lot of the amenities have focused only on the premium ticket-buyer, the courtside seat holder or the club seat holder, but here with the new Amway Center, we have bars, restaurants and clubs on every level for every ticket-buyer; and that's for Magic games and every event. So, it really is a building that has a high level of amenity for everybody."

"Over the past three years, we have focused on revitalizing the Parramore neighborhood and have experienced a resurgence in our downtown," said Orlando Mayor Buddy Dyer as the design for the building was unveiled on December 11, 2007. "Today marks another important day in our efforts, as the facility takes shape with the design unveiling of this new landmark...a landmark that will be a gathering place for all of Orlando and Central Florida."

AMWAY CENTER DESIGN PRINCIPLES

Amway Center was designed to reflect the character of the community, meet the goals of the users and build on the legacy of sports and entertainment in Orlando. The building's exterior features a modern blend of glass and metal materials, along with ever-changing graphics via a monumental wall along one façade. A 180-foot tall tower serves as a beacon amid the downtown skyline.

Civic Building: Creates a community gathering place for Orlando and Central Florida, with a clear front door

Context: Designed each façade with respect to its distinct environment; responded to the neighborhoods immediately adjacent to the specific facade

Sustainable: Implemented design strategies to create one of the country's most environmentally-friendly arenas

Indoor-Outdoor: Celebrates Central Florida's climate by allowing movement indoors and out

Front porch: Created an entry design element that relates the design to local architecture

Landscape: Integrates a variety of native landscape forms of various scale and type

Pattern and Texture: Uses a variety of design elements in both horizontal and vertical surfaces

Alive: Brought the building to life with color, graphics and signage

Public Art: Identified key locations for public art to further define the building's personality coordinated by Sports & The Arts

SPORTS AND ENTERTAINMENT DISTRICT

In an effort to continue the revitalization of downtown Orlando and Parramore and to centralize the Orlando Magic staff downtown, the team continues to make progress on the Sports and Entertainment development design which will create jobs and provide dining, hotel, living, and entertainment options.

The design will feature class A office space (which will include the Orlando Magic headquarters), multi-family residences, a first-class hotel with meeting and event space, a multitude of dining options, and a vibrant central events plaza.

"Like with the Amway Center, this has been several years of planning and working with the City to find the right avenue to add another iconic destination that will add to the core of downtown," said Magic CEO Alex Martins. "We look forward to entering this new stage as we work with our partners to make Orlando a great place to live, work and play."

The development, situated next to Amway Center, is located north of Church Street, east of Division Avenue, south of Central Avenue and west of Hughey Avenue. This development will further enhance the Magic's expanding footprint in downtown Orlando, while complementing the Amway Center and Exploria Stadium. The city-owned, Magic-designed Amway Center, where the Magic have played their home games since 2010, has been widely hailed as one of the finest sports facilities in North America. It was named the 2012 Sports Facility of the Year by the SportsBusiness Journal. The dazzling facility also allowed Orlando to play host to the 2012 NBA All-Star Game. Orlando Mayor Buddy Dyer has taken great pride in the success of the Amway Center, hailing it as "the envy of everyone in the NBA and the envy of everyone around the country."

The Magic's major investment also continues their efforts in the revitalization of downtown Orlando and the Parramore neighborhood. The Magic and the Parramore community have long been partners in helping the citizens of that region. The Magic have given more than $1 million to the Parramore community while also donating thousands of community service hours, building nine reading and learning centers and two playgrounds, and providing hundreds of backpacks with school supplies.

Martins is proud that the Magic have been able to broaden their footprint downtown so that they can continue to be socio-economic growth catalysts for the area. Martins is also extremely proud that the Magic will continue to be leaders in the growth and development of Parramore.

"It's our neighborhood and it's important to us that we continue to help revitalize it," Martins said of Parramore. "We think this is another significant step. Like the great addition of Exploria Stadium, hopefully this is a spark for others to invest in that part of downtown. Downtown really stretches from Orange Avenue to Camping World Stadium. So, this is an opportunity to spark the western side of that stretch."

Improved by 12 wins this past season, the largest improvement in the Eastern Conference...Roster features young core, including 2023 Rookie of the Year Paolo Banchero, 2022 All-Rookie First Teamer Franz Wagner, Markelle Fultz, Wendell Carter Jr., Cole Anthony and Jalen Suggs...Entering the 2024 NBA Draft, Orlando is in control of eight first round draft picks and 12 future second round selections over the next seven drafts (through 2030) – all valuable assets...Opened the new state-of-the-art AdventHealth Training Center in August of 2022.

ESPN.COM... Orlando magic state of the roster:

"No Eastern Conference lottery team is set up better for the future than Orlando. The Magic improved their win total from 22 to 34 and have the roster resources to take another jump starting with the draft. For a second time in three years, Orlando has two lottery picks (the Bulls retain their first if it jumps into the top four) and have a 9% chance of selecting first. The NBA's secondyoungest roster -- led by likely Rookie of the Year winner Paolo Banchero, Franz Wagner and Wendell Carter Jr. -- has a sustainable foundation in place. Banchero averaged 20.0 points this season, the most by a rookie since Luka Doncic in 2018-19. He and Wagner are the third pair of teammates 21 or younger to average 18 points in a season. Carter averaged a career high 15.2 points and posted his fourth straight season of at least 8 rebounds per game. The Magic also have roster flexibility with 14 players under contract but only seven on guaranteed deals." - Bobby Marks, ESPN.com (June 12, 2023)
